

Introducing Our New Associate Editor

Prof Dr Daniel Thoma is the head of reconstructive dentistry and vice chairman at the Clinic of Reconstructive Dentistry, University of Zurich, Switzerland. He graduated in 2000 from the University of Basel, Switzerland, and was trained in implant dentistry and prosthodontics at the Clinic of Reconstructive Dentistry, University of Zurich. Dr Thoma was the recipient of an International Team for Implantology scholarship and spent a year at the Department of Periodontics, University of Texas Health Science Center, San Antonio, Texas, USA. Between 2008 and 2012, he was a full-time senior teaching and research assistant at the Clinic of Reconstructive Dentistry at the University of Zurich. In 2016, Dr Thoma was a visiting associate professor at the Department of Periodontology, Yonsei University, Seoul, South Korea. Since 2020, Dr Thoma has been an adjunct professor and serves as the head of reconstructive dentistry.

Introducing Our New Section Editor

Dr Revilla-León obtained her PhD in Prosthodontics and Digital Dentistry at Academisch Centrum Tandheelkunde Amsterdam (ACTA) University, the Netherlands. She obtained her MSD in Prosthodontics at the University of Washington in Seattle and her MS in Esthetic Dentistry at the Complutense University of Madrid, Spain. Dr Revilla-León is the director of Research and Digital Dentistry at the Kois Center in Seattle and affiliate faculty in the graduate prosthodontic programs at the University of Washington and at Tufts University in Boston. Dr Revilla-León is a specialist in digital dentistry, with more than 100 publications in peer-reviewed dental journals in the last 4 years related to facial and intraoral scanning methods, digital implant scans with photogrammetry systems, virtual patient integration, polymer, metal, and ceramic additive manufacturing technologies, and artificial intelligence for dental applications.

doi: 10.11607/ijp.2022.1.bio