Author Guidelines

The International Poster Journal of Dentistry and Oral Medicine (IPJ) is a journal in which scientific posters are to be published online by the QVG (heretofore the publisher). The IPJ is simultaneously an organ of the German Society of Dento-Maxillo-Facial Sciences (DGZMK). Contributions accepted by the DGZMK will be made accessible worldwide through the publisher. The following author guidelines must under all conditions be observed.

1. Guidelines for Submitting Posters

- Topics concerning dentistry and oral medicine (oral surgery, oral pathology etc.) shall be published in IPJ.
- A poster must meet the standard of an academic / scientific presentation. It is to be outlined in sections as follows: "Introduction", "Objectives", "Material and Methods", "Results" and "Discussion and Conclusions". The content of the poster must follow the structure shown in appendix 2.
- Only posters and board demonstrations which have been evaluated, accepted and presented by an academic / scientific committee of a conference may be submitted.
- The author shall submit his/her poster for publication through the DGZMK directly following the presentation at the following web-address in PDF and MS Powerpoint (editable) format:
<https://www.manuscriptmanager.net/ipj>
- The author shall also upload a copy of the detailed program for the respective conference at which the poster was demonstrated.
- Regardless of the acceptance for presentation at any particular conference, each and every poster submitted will be evaluated by the editor-in-chief and by the Editorial Board (appendix 1).
- If an author does not resubmit a poster that is rejected for revision within two months, the poster submission will be rejected. The author may still submit the revisited poster as new.
- The recommended language of publication for contributions is English. However, posters in German can be accepted if title, abstract and keywords are submitted in English as well. Exceptions are possible for supplements. All posters have to use latin characters. Any and all translations are to be provided by the author. It is highly recommended, that posters are submitted in English in order to promote the international platform this online journal seeks to provide. All Posters submitted must be accompanied by an abstract, a title and keywords in English.
- An essential characteristic of IPJ is the opportunity for communication between the reader and author. Therefore, the author must provide a valid email address where he/she may be contacted permanently. This email-address has to be submitted with every correspondence. Also a phone number will help us to contact the author easily and to speed up the editorial process.
- Without limitation of time or place, the author is allowed to use the poster or parts of it for further publications when adding a citation to the publication in the IPJ. The authors ensure that the poster is first published in the IPJ.
- The author ensures, that he is authorized to publish the poster with all texts, pictures and other materials and that this will not infringe any rights of third parties. The author grants the publishing company all necessary rights to publish the poster.
- Authors are not charged for the submission or the publication of their poster. Congress supplements are subject to charge for the congress organizer.

2. Steps after Acceptance of a Poster by the DGZMK

After the review of a poster by the editorial board of the IPJ the editor-in-chief decides about acceptance of the poster and informs the author.

The editorial staff of Quintessence produces the poster and contacts the author for proofreading.
